Hi Iulian.

Russia have been aiding the separatists in Donetsk and Luhansk for the past eight years, sending Russian military personell and equipment to fight the Ukrainian government, and have issued Russian citizenship and passports to Ukrainian citizens in those regions.

I hold that to be comparable to what NATO did in Kosovo in terms of motivations and in terms of actions taken.

To the degree that the separatists represent the the people, I believe that there is some justification in aiding people who are fighting for their right to govern themselves, no matter who they are and which country they seek independence from.

That's where the comparison ends.

NATO did not declare that Serbia had no right to sovereignty and no right to exist. NATO did not attempt to invade and depose the democratically elected Serbian government and annex Serbia to a NATO country.

If Russia succeeds in this invasion, Putin has made it clear what the fate of Ukraine will be.

I see that difference between Kosovo and Ukraine, and it's crucial to my moral considerations.

Dear friends.

Even if randonneur cyclists, cross country skiers and football players are not involved in the war, there is still a need and an obligation to underline the necessity and urgency with which our governments and our peoples act against this kind of aggression.

The Russian government has publicly declared it does not recognize Ukraine's sovereignty and right to exist. Ukrainians are the target of an invading military force with the express purpose of deposing the democratically elected government and annexing the country into Russia, in one way or another. This invasion has no parallel in recent European history.

While there are opposing voices also in Norway, echoing the Russian government's excuses about NATO expansion in Eastern Europe, the vast majority of the Norwegian people support the actions taken to sanction Russia, and we stand by Ukraine in this matter.

As a consequence, football matches against Russian teams are cancelled, skiing competitions in Russia are boycotted, Russian skiers are not invited to competitions in Norway, and the Norwegian broadcasting corporation has publicly announced, alongside our Danish and Swedish compatriots, that Russia is not welcome to the Eurovision Song Contest, even considering the EBU's staunch apolitical charter.

The purpose is not to punish Russian cyclists, skiers, footballers, or singers. Neither is the purpose to hold all Russians accountable for the actions of the Russian and Belarusian governments, but to show those governments, even in the most insignificant matter, that everyone is and will be affected. Finally, actions such as these are taken despite the social and cultural bonds that unite us, not because there are no bonds to begin with.

In my mind, our sympathy should be clearly, visibly, and publicly with the Ukrainians. I do not see our organisations as even more apolitical than football, skiing, and the EBU. We should and must take a stand in this matter, and make that stance publicly known. It's a stance that I fully expect many Russians also will see as the correct stance against the actions of their own government.

I have not had the time to confer with my fellow cyclists on the board of Randonneurs Norge. I write this email from me personally. As a BRM organiser in Randonneurs Stavanger and the appointed ACP representative in Norway, I support this proposal from our Ukrainian friends, for the duration of the war.

It is up to the ACP, and to all participating organisations, to decide for themselves what they want to do. We should all look to our own governments and see what they are doing, and ask ourselves what could justify that we do less.

Dear Friends,

I fully support below proposal from our Ukrainian friends and fully agree with the Randonneurs Norge position.

To be clear and short, when the whole world is against the war, aggression and killing children and thousands of people in Ukraine, we don't have moral right to distance from this tragedy we are facing in 21st century.

The purpose of my position is not to punish Russian cyclists, my friends personally and to hold them accountable for the actions of the Russian and Belarus government. However, governments should realize that all representatives of their society - cultural, sport, diplomacy, politics, medical, journalists will be affected.

We all together are responsible to make our even very small contribution to end this evasion, aggression and violence of fundamental right of independent country and its people.

Best Regards,
Georgia Randonneurs

Dear colleagues!

Although we Romanians are neighbors of Ukraine and we are with them with everything we can in these difficult times, however, I believe that politics and war should not be mixed with sports, especially for amateurs. Our fellow Russian randonneurs are absolutely not to blame for what their leaders have decided. Most of them probably do not agree with the attack on Ukraine. But, as my Serbian friend says, why should Russian cyclists be penalized only in this situation? There have been over the last few years and there are still so many conflicts in the world and no such sanctions have been taken against the aggressor countries in question. We, the international randonneurs community, should remain united regardless of where we come from. Thank you for your understanding and we look forward to seeing you at the events organized in Romania in 2022!

Dear all,

We are all very very sad to see a war in Ukraina and to know that some of our friends are living a very dangerous time for themselves, their families and friends. Right now, our friends randonneurs are safe and we wish them to stay safe.

As you all know, Audax Club Parisien's only objective is to promote long distance cycling. As CIO is promoting sport all over the world, despite conflicts and diplomatic issues, we would like to focus only on sport, friendness, safety, wellness. We all know very good friends who are russians and I would like to give a big hugh to Valery Komotchkov, our representative for Russia, as to Oleg and Alexandre, our representatives for Ukraina. We all know that they, as many russians and ukrainians, would like only to live in peace and to ride safely all over the world.

Please, we must stay away from these conflict and just pray for our brothers who are only suffering, where ever they are living. We are sharing a same passion!

Thank you to keep calm.

Best regards,

Objet : Open letter to the management of Audax Club Parisien and the entire Randonneurs community

Friends, like-minded Randoners!

On 24 February 2022, the Russian Federation with the support of the Republic of Belarus attacked Ukraine. This attack opened the eyes of the whole world to the cannibalistic regime of Russia. This aggression aims to destroy Ukraine as a state, to destroy Ukrainians as a nation. It is an attempt at genocide and an attack on universal values, on the principles of good neighborliness and peace in the modern world.

All over the world, friendly governments are announcing sanctions packages and assisting Ukraine. Commercial companies independently impose sanctions on the Russian Federation and its ally, the Republic of Belarus. Cultural and sports organizations are also massively refusing to cooperate with the aggressor countries.

Therefore, we, the Randoner community, consider it necessary to join the sanctions against the Russian Federation and Belarus, and appeal to the leadership of Audax Club Parisien and the entire global Randoner community with the requirements:

- cancel the accreditation of Audax Club Parisien for organizing clubs in the jurisdiction of the Russian Federation and the Republic of Belarus;
- abolish the calendar of BRM, LRM, Fleche Nationale, Trace Nationale, SR clubs of organizing clubs in the jurisdiction of the Russian Federation and the Republic of Belarus for 2022;
- do not register new organizing clubs in the jurisdiction of the Russian Federation and the Republic of Belarus;
- prohibit at the level of the rules of BRM, LRM, Fleche Nationale, Trace Nationale, SR on routes under the jurisdiction of the Russian Federation and the Republic of Belarus;
- for any of BRM, LRM, Fleche Nationale, Trace Nationale, SR events allow registration for citizens and residents of the Russian Federation and the Republic of Belarus only in organizing clubs under the jurisdiction of third countries, with the registration of results of these participants under common codes of independent participants;
- prohibit at the level of the Paris-Brest-Paris rules the performance of citizens and residents of the Russian Federation and the Republic of Belarus under the flags of these states and/or from the organizing clubs in the jurisdiction of the Russian Federation and the Republic of Belarus;
- impose the above sanctions for an indefinite period until the restoration of the territorial integrity of Ukraine, namely the return to Ukraine of the temporarily occupied territories, and for the period of reparations are paid to the full extent.

Dear colleagues,

As much as I disapprove actions of Russia's government against Ukraine..

I would say it's best to keep politics out of BRM.

Otherwise ACP would have to, to keep it all fair and equal to all, act the same towards any country whose government decides to attack a sovereign country.

That would mean that we would not have any BRM in a lot of countries. For example in 1999 all of NATO countries would not have BRM's, including the France itself, for attacking a sovereign country, Federal republic of Yugoslavia.

Not to mention the current situations, happening as we speak, involving Russia, USA, Israel, Saudi Arabia.

Just my 2 cents, for what it's worth.

Kind regards,

Igor
